

Glogster

"It is very hard to imagine any concept of manliness that does not belittle woman, and it begins very early"- Paul Theroux

Not only females are seen painting an offensive picture in these books - males are too ; which can cause for an indecent future for generations to come.

Parents are responsible for any learned stereotypes & gender codes , they can prevent this problem by controlling the media, not letting the media control them.

These children books are a form of media, that teach young children stereotypes and gender codes, that kids will live by the rest of their lives; witch can be prevented by parents to end the cycle that can continue for generations.

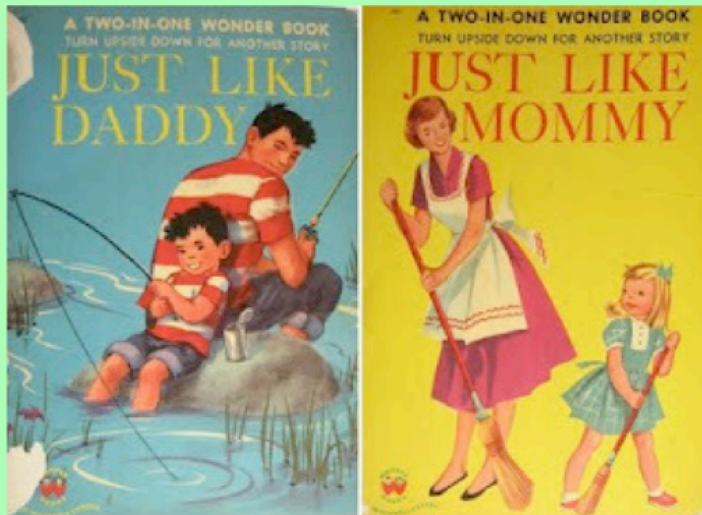

Any race of people can read these books , and are expected to adhere to this life style!

"The myth of the hispanic menial has been sustained by the same media phenomenon that made "Manny" from Gone with the wind Americas' ideal of the black woman for generations: Maria, the housemaid or counter girl, is now indelibly etched into the national psyche."- Judith

"Parents can protect their teenagers from believing in these stereotypes by prohibiting these shows in their household, and any self respecting young man or woman should choose to boycott them."- Gabriela Washington

No matter a person race, as long as it is a female in America ,America wants expects them to apply stereotypes & gender codes to themselves.

Male stereotypes & gender codes are learned life, just like female stereotypes and gender

sexset blog

by tamonicka

Copyright ©
Glogster 2012
glogster.com

Best Glog
performance with

